Approved May 21 1862

Gen. Pope has issued an order putting a peremptory stop to the business of guarding private property, Loyal or Rebel. He advances the refreshing bit of common sense that soldiers are employed to fight the enemy and not to protect their hen-roosts.

MARYLAND AND KENTUCKY.—The spirited New York correspondent of the Albany Statesman, makes the following allusion to the two mischief-breeding border States, Kentucky and Maryland:

The border slave State incubus has weighed too heavily upon the President, and he needs to read the able article in the Danville (Ky.) Review, by Rev. Dr. Breckinridge, to show him how hollow-hearted Kentucky has been. It seems to me that the late treasonable speech of Wickliffe of Kentucky must open the eyes of Mr. Lincoln. If justice were speedily done to Wickliffe, he would wake up very soon in Fort Lafayette. If men who are our law-makers can counsel resistance to the laws of Congress with impunity, then men without position or official influence, may counsel no more recruits to our army without the fear of imprisonment before their eyes.

It would have been far better for our cause if Maryland and Kentucky had gone with the other rebel States. They have been the evil genius in this war, and have held the hand that should have struck a heavy powerful blow on the head of treason. Let the blow come now; let it fall with vigor and energy, even if it severs the chain that binds the slave to the rebel car of treason—strike!

NEW ERA IN JOURNALISM.—The N. Y. Herald is about to be supplied with type-setting machines as substitutes for compositors! Twelve of these machines have been ordered by Bennett, at $1,000 each, and they are to be put into practical use as fast as completed. It is computed that the Herald will save $100 a day by the change. The type-setting machine alluded to is a great curiosity, and "distributes" type with as much celerity as it can "compose" and "justify." The inventor wasted twenty years of his life and all his means in perfecting his idea, but could get no capitalist courageous enough to assist him in bringing the machine properly before the public. When he had thoroughly beggared himself he died—but still protesting that in a few years his invention would completely set aside the employment of compositors and make the fortune of his descendants. The latter part of his prophecy seems to be in a fair way to meet with something like a realization, for after lying by, as idle rubbish, for several years in a warehouse, the machine accidentally arrested the attention of an enterprising printer. He examined it. He procured several moneyed men to enter into the speculation with him. He secured patents all over the world. He prepared the materials for manufacturing the machine, and voila! what was worth nichts a short time ago is now selling at $10,000 a share!

INCREASE OF WEALTH.—The census of 1860 represents that the annual value of our manufactures reaches the enormous sum of 1,900 millions of dollars. The profits in the amount are computed at 43.45 per cent. This amount of wealth was created by one million three hundred and eighty-five thousand persons, assisted by improved machinery, which gives their skill the greatest possible amount of productive power. A people who can produce wealth as fast as this, need not fear of being exhausted in its means of putting down rebellion.

A western paper says:—"Wanted, at this office, an editor who can please everybody.—Also, a foreman who can so arrange the paper so as to allow every man's advertisement to head the column."

The Republican State Committee, of New York, has joined with Union men of other parties in issuing a call for a Union State Convention, to meet Sept. 24th.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

No flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the stars of a Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it! ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save

THURSDAY MORNING, SEPT 11, 1862

From Salem.

We have received detailed reports of the proceedings of the Legislature on Tuesday last, the second day. The most important action of that day was the passage of a joint resolution to go into the election of United States Senator on to-day (Thursday) at 10 A. M., and the unanimous passage of a sound and well written set of resolutions, condemning treason and traitors, endorsing the course of the administration, and pledging the sympathy and support of the people of Oregon in favor of the Union cause, and for the unqualified suppression of the wicked Southern rebellion. The resolutions were introduced by Hon. J. R. McBride, and speak the true sentiments of all loyal citizens throughout the State. They have the clear, patriotic ring, and will do Mr. McBride, the Legislative Assembly and the whole State much credit.

Our Governor elect, A. C. Gibbs, has not been inaugurated at latest dates, owing to the fact that from delay in the State Treasurer's report, the former incumbent, John Whiteaker, has not sent in his last message, and could not well turn over the executive office to his successor until the official reports of the doings of himself and other State officers had been made to the Legislature, according to constitutional requirements. Wednesday morning, however, was agreed upon for the reception of Whiteaker's "last will and testament," when the gubernatorial mantle will fall from his shoulders, we hope never again to be dishonored by such a character. We doubt not that ere this time the State has been rid of the stain of a "secession Governor, and that his place has been filled by an honorable, efficient and respectable gentleman. The contest for Senator will probably be quite warm, but we cannot at this time tell whose chances are foremost.

Union Resolutions.

The following Resolutions were introduced in the Senate on Tuesday last, by Hon. J. R. McBride, and unanimously passed both branches of the Assembly the same day:

WHEREAS, There is now in progress a wicked and armed rebellion against the Federal Union, seeking its dismemberment, and

WHEREAS, Those engaged in this revolutionary and treasonable movement claim that the several States possess the Constitutional and legal right to secede from the Union and inaugurate a new Government, including the right to support such organization by the force of arms; and

WHEREAS, The people of the State of Oregon, citizens of the United States, have a vital and paramount interest in the preservation of our beneficent system of free government, and the perpetuity of the Federal Union as its basis.

Therefore be it Resolved by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon: That we have a firm and unalterable attachment and devotion to the American Union—that it is a binding and perpetual connection between the States composing it—that the alleged right of secession urged by those resisting the Federal authority, has no existence—is a doctrine alike unfounded in the Constitution and fatal to all good government, and we brand it as a political heresy, cherished only by traitors and their sympathizers.

2. Resolved, That the rebellion is an unjustifiable, inexcusable and wicked attempt—the result of a base conspiracy long since entered into by ambitious enemies of our republican institutions, to overthrow our glorious Union and the noble form of free government, which it supports, and that those who justify or apologise for its treason are false to their Government and traitors to the cause of liberty throughout the world, and that this infamous revolt should be suppressed by the use of every means necessary to effect that object.

3. Resolved, That as the Federal Union is the basis of all our prosperity and character as a nation, we will support the Executive of the Government in every effort "to preserve, protect and defend" it, and take care that the laws be faithfully executed, and that all attempts to embarrass the Administration by assaults or captious criticisms upon its policy should be regarded as unpatriotic and having a direct tendency to aid the traitors now fighting against the Government.

4. Resolved, That the war against the rebellion should be prosecuted for the sake of preserving the Union, and not to subserve any mere party purposes whatever, and to this end, while we insist that an assault upon the peculiar institution of the rebellious States was never any part of the purposes of the Government in its efforts to maintain its authority, we deny that slavery shall be permitted to stand between the loyal American citizen and the preservation of the Government—that the paramount object in this struggle is to save the Union, and not to save or destroy slavery, and that we pledge the people of Oregon to sustain the Federal authorities in any lawful action in reference thereto which has for its purposes and results the maintenance and perpetuity of the Union.

5. Resolved, That the weak and wicked scheme of a Pacific Confederacy, concocted and cherished by secession sympathizers and agents, meets the emphatic condemnation of the people of Oregon, and we denounce it as a development of treason favored by no man who has intelligence and patriotism.

6. Resolved, That the practical issues of the times demand that patriots cease to cavil or discuss the partisan questions of the past—that all who desire the perpetuity of our free system of government should unite in one common fraternal effort to support the national Executive in his endeavors to subdue the present causeless and wicked revolt against the best and wisest Government ever devised by man, until that end shall be accomplished, whatever of time or sacrifice its consummation may demand.

LEGISLATIVE PROCEEDINGS.

SALEM, Sept. 9th 1862

The House met according to adjournment. Roll called, proceedings of yesterday read, corrected and adopted.

The Speaker explained that the law required the members not only to take the oath prescribed but shall also subscribe the same which oath was read by the Speaker to the House. This oath he said shall be filed with the Secretary of State. The roll was therefore called and the members came forward by counties and subscribed the oath.

A message was received from the Senate, giving notice of the concurrence of that body in the Joint Committee to wait upon the Governor.

The Committee on the part of the Senate was, McBride, Drew and Earl.

The Standing Committees were announced as follows:

On Elections—Messrs. Stevenson, Haines, Engle.

Ways and Means—Messrs. Brown, Reed and Kearns.

Education—Messrs. Richardson, Mallory and Gillette.

Judiciary—Messrs. Mallory, Humason, Cummins, Moores and Stevens.

Counties—Messrs. Simpson, Smith, and Haines.

Military Affairs—Messrs. Applegate, Wilson and Hemenway.

Roads and Highways—Messrs. Dufur, Minto and Wilkins.

Engrossed Bills—Messrs. Blair and Stevens.

Enrolled Bills—Messrs. Cummins, Reed and Fay.

Indian Affairs—Messrs. Simpson, Watson and Humason.

Printing—Messrs. Humason, Conyers and McCully.

Corporations—Messrs. Collard, VanDyke and Witham.

Commerce—Messrs. Wasserman, Gillette and Moores.

Counties—Messrs. McCoy, Ramsby, and McClure.

One hundred copies of the Standing Committees ordered printed.

An order was made for as many as six newspapers; each member chosing what papers he desired.

Mr. Humason, of Wasco, offered a petition from the people of the Powder River country, asking for the organization of the County of Baker. The petition was signed by about five hundred men—citizens of the United States and residents of that section of country. Mr. Humason asked for its reference to a Special Committee; and it was so referred. Mr. Humason, Moores and Watson, were appointed the said Committee.

This petition very forcibly sets forth the necessity of the immediate organization of a county embracing that section, and the necessity of legalizing their election of officers seems most evident. They ask that their representative be admitted to a seat in the Legislature.

The Committee to wait on the Governor, reported that His Excellency will take pleasure in communicating with the Legislature, and deliver his Message and documents precisely at the hour of 10 o'clock to-morrow.

Adjourned to the hour of 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

AFTERNOON SESSION.—Mr. Humason, of Wasco, presented a petition from the people of the City of Auburn, Wasco County, asking for an act of corporation for the city of Auburn. It was referred.

Mr. Humason, of Wasco, presented a petition from the people of Powder River country, asking for an act chartering a company to construct a wagon road, build bridges, &c., giviving the said corporation power to collect tolls, regulate the rates of the same.

Mr. Mallory, of Douglas, offered a resolution to go into joint ballot for the election of United States Senator, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the death of Senator Baker; appointing next Friday. It was adopted.

Mr. Smith, of Linn, moved a resolution to canvass the vote for the Governor to-morrow.

Mr. Fay, of Josephine, moved a resolution to appoint a committee of three to invite the presence of the Senate in the Legislative hall and declare the vote for Governor. Adopted.

Mr. Dufur, moved the reconsideration of the resolution appointing Friday as the day on which to elect Senator; and offered to insert by appointing next Thursday. He desired to save time. This subject was of so much importance, that it was necessary for it to be disposed of as soon as possible, so we could get properly at other business with undivided attention.

Mr. Collard, of Clackamas, desired to put off the election for a few days.

Mr. Simpson, of Polk, was in favor of getting through with this matter. He held that members had their minds already made up. No reason why we should not dispatch this business as soon as possible.

Mr. Collard, of Clackamas, agreed that the election of Senator was a matter of very great importance and for that very reason he thought it best not to act prematurely, but be deliberate and take time to it. The Senator would do us as much good elected four or five days from now as if elected to-morrow. He was no way excited. The question did not distract him at all. And the people of Wasco have sent a representative here and ask us to give him his seat. Let us not be hasty and cut him off from a chance to vote on so important a matter.

Thursday at 10 o'clock in the forenoon was adopted as the time to elect Senator.

Message from the Senate—strong Union Resolutions. The yeas and nays were called for.

Mr. Fay desired to place himself right before the House; and said that he was the only Democrat in the House—elected on the straight Democratic ticket. He was opposed to a point or two in the resolutions, but would vote for them as a whole. He was opposed to the Administration. He was also opposed to that squinting at the abolition of slavery so plainly visible in the resolutions.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

A message from the Senate was received giving notice of the concurrence of that body in the appointment of Thursday, 10 o'clock, as the time to elect an U. S. Senator.

Adjourned to 9 o'clock in the morning.

IMPORTANT ITEM.—The attention of the Senate was called, on Tuesday morning, by Mr Hovey, to a very important item in the constitution relative to qualification of the members of the legislative body, to wit: that each member is required to take and subscribe to the oath of office prescribed by the constitution. The members elect had taken the oath the day previous, but from oversight did not subscribe thereto until their attention was called to the necessity. This is a very important item, and its discovery was made in good time.

SUBSCRIPTIONS IN AID OF SANITARY COMMISSION.—Amount previously acknowledged—$4,126 47

From the citizens of Hubbard's neighborhood, Marion county, $118 77. J Morton, (Milwaukie,) 5, Citizens of Vancouver, additional, 118 50. Mrs N. J. Allen, (Washwoman,) Cascades, 5, O Small 5, A Foilds, 75c. J. H. Eagan, 1 50, Citizens of Corvallis, 400.—Total—$4,780 99. A. HOLBROOK.

Dalles Correspondence.

DALLES, Sept 9, 1862.

EDS. OREGONIAN:

I propose during my sojourn in the Dalles to drop you a letter occasionally, and I send you my first to-day by Express. Why by Express? Because the mail is tri-weekly and because it is allowed to be two days in making the trip from here to Portland, and vice versa. This is not as it should be. It seems to me that it could and should be amended. I am not posted whether an effort has been made to effect a different arrangement, but the powers that be should be petitioned to grant us a daily mail and to let it to parties who will take it through in 12 or 14 hours, at most. The trips are certainly being made in so short a time, and the amount of mail matter already is large enough to warrant a daily mail. Moreover, had we a daily mail, one half of the letters and nearly all of the papers now brought and taken away by Express would go by the mail. It is justly a matter of public complaint that our mail is not as reliable and expeditious as is an Express over the same route.

The Dalles is in a very flourishing condition. Business is lively—good buildings are in constant process of construction—the streets are always crowded—the hotels and restaurants full—rents high, and the demand for room greater than the supply—miners are constantly coming and going, and money appears to be plenty. Of course in the midst of all this bustle and business we have "dead falls" dance houses and places unmentionable, with a goodly proportion of professional and nonprofessional chaps seeking whom they may devour. No prudent man needs caution against these, no imprudent man will take caution if offered.

Our news from the mines is like the old woman's daughters, "good, bad and indifferent," taking into consideration the later discoveries on John Day and Powder rivers, and the striking of two or three rich quartz leads, we may condense it to about this: the mines are not a humbug, as unfortunate and disappointed men tell us, nor are they sure to enrich every man who goes to them as some who have "axes to grind" would have us believe.

There is a military post here, as you know, garrisoned at present by Capt Fitch's Co. B, of the 4th Regt Cal. Volunteers, or rather by a portion of it—a large detachment and one Lieutenant being stationed at the Warm Spring Indian Reservation, about 70 miles distant. Capt Fitch, his officers and men are highly spoken of by the citizens of the Dalles, and are doubtless deserving of great praise. I have been present at several drills, and must say that I think them equal if not superior to any company of volunteers I ever saw in their general appearance and proficiency in the exercises of the soldier.

Lieut. James Halloran, of the W. T. Infantry, is in town recruiting for his regiment. He has already enlisted three or four men. He informs me that the company to which he is attached is nearly full.

A company of cavalry is expected to be here soon and remain at the Fort during the winter.

My sources of information are limited as yet, but as they increase and as items become more plentiful, you may expect to hear from me. ONCE IN A WHILE.

From the Upper Columbia

The following items are from the Mountaineer.

EMIGRANTS.—A large number of emigrants arrived at the Dalles yesterday. They report that one of the trains was attacked by Indians and that one man was killed, and some ten thousand dollars worth of property lost.

DAILY TRIPS.—The Oregon Steam Navigation Company dispatch steamers from Celilo for Wallula, every morning in the week except Sunday. This is done in order to meet the demands of the up-country traders, and no doubt will be the means of placing sufficient supplies in the mines to last through the winter season. In addition to the facilities thus afforded, the Merchants' Transportation Line dispatch the steamer Spray twice a week for Wallula. We thus have eight trips a week—sufficient, we should think, to accommodate the trade they may offer.

THE WAR TAX.—Judge Graves has been appointed Deputy Collector for the State of Oregon, and has been instructed to immediately enter upon the discharge of his duties. He will leave for Portland this morning, for the purpose of conferring with Mr Frazar, the State Assessor.

The taxable property within the limits of Wasco county is $1,000,000.

BRAN, SHORTS and MIDDLINGS,

For sale by [illegible]

Born to Love Pigs and Chickens.

[illegible] windows on [illegible] rainy day [illegible] —no [illegible] passed in doors [illegible] days to [illegible] not [illegible] large drawing [illegible]. A very dressy [illegible] the Astor, and [illegible] tail—[illegible] dressy [illegible] and [illegible] rainy days, [illegible] visits to New York, [illegible] goes, "patronize the Astor." [illegible] was any patronage in getting the worth of your money?

Well—the people in the drawing-room looked a little out of the windows, and a great deal at each other. Unfortunately, it is only among angels and underbred [illegible] that introductions can be dispensed with, and, as the guests that day at the Astor House were mostly strangers to each other, conversation was very fitful and guarded, and any movement whatever extremely conspicuous. There were four very silent ladies on the sofa, two very silent ladies in each of the windows, silent ladies on the ottomans, silent ladies in the chairs at the corners, and one silent lady, very highly dressed, sitting on the music-stool, with her back to the piano. There was here and there a gentleman in the room, weather-bound and silent; but we have only to do with one of these, and the last mentioned much embellished young lady.

"Well, I can't sit on this soft chair all day, cousin Meg!" said the young gentleman.

"'Sh'—call me Margaret, if you must speak so loud," said the lady. "And what would you do out of doors this rainy day? I'm sure it is very pleasant here."

"Not for me. I'd rather be thrashing in the barn. But there must be some 'rainy weather work' in the city as well as in the country. There's some fun, I know, that's kept for a wet day, as we keep corn-shelling and grinding the tools."

"Dear me!"

"Well—what now?"

"Oh, nothing!—but I do wish you would not bring the stable with you to the Astor House."

The gentleman slightly elevated his eyebrows, and took a leaf of music from the piano, and commenced diligently reading the mystic lines and dots. We have ten minutes to spare before the entrance of another person upon the scene, and we will make use of the silence to conjure up for you, in our magic mirror, the semblance of the two whose familiar dialogue we have just jotted down.

Miss Margaret Pifflit was a young lady who had a large share of what the French call la beauté du diable—youth and freshness. (Though, why the devil should have the credit of what never belonged to him, it takes a Frenchman, perhaps, to explain.) To look at, she was certainly a human being in very high perfection. Her cheeks were like two sound apples; her waist was as round as a stove-pipe; her shoulders had two dimples just at the back, that looked as if they defied punching to make them any deeper; her eyes looked as if they were just made, they were so bright and new; her voice sounded like "C sharp" in a new piano; and her teeth were like a fresh break in a cocoa-nut. She was inexorably, unabatedly, desperately healthy. This fact, and the difficulty of uniting all the fashions of all the magazines in one dress, were her two principal afflictions in this world of care. She had an ideal model, to which she aspired with constant longings—a model resembling in figure the high-born creatures whose never-varied face is seen in all the plates of fashion, yet, if possible, paler and more disdainful. If Miss Pifflit could have bent her short wrist with the curve invariably given to the well gloved extremities of that mysterious and namely beauty; if she could but have sat with her back to her friends, and thrown her head languishingly over her shoulder without dislocating her neck; if she could but have protruded from the flounce of her dress a foot more like a mincing little muscle shell, and less like a jolly fat clam; in brief, if she could have drawn out her figure like the enviable joints of a spy-glass, whittled off more taperly her four extremities, sold all her uproarious and indomitable roses for a pot of carmine, and compelled the publishers of the magazines to refrain from the distracting multiplicity of their monthly fashions—with these little changes in her allotment—Miss Pifflit would have realized all of her maiden aspirations up to the present hour.

A glimpse will give you an idea of the gentleman in question. He was not much more than he looked to be—a compact, athletic young man of twenty-one, with clear, honest, blue eyes, brown face, (where it was not shaded by the rim of his hat,) curling brown hair, and an expression of fearless qualities, dashed just now by a tinge of rustic bashfulness. His dress was a little more expensive and gayer than was necessary, and he wore his clothes in a way which betrayed that he would be more at home in shirt-sleeves. His hands were rough, and his attitude was that of a man who was accustomed to fling himself down on the nearest bench, or swing his legs from the top rail of a fence, or the box of a wagon. We speak with caution of his rusticity, however, for he had a printed card, "Mr. Ephraim Bracely," and he was a subscriber to the Spirit of the Times. We shall find time to say a thing or two about him as we get on.

"Eph." Bracely and "Meg" Pifflit were "engaged." With the young lady it was, as the French say, [illegible], for her beau idéal or, in plain English, her ideal beau, was a [illegible] young gentleman, with white gloves, and in a rapid consumption. She and Eph. were second cousins, however, and she was an orphan, and had lived since childhood with his father, and, moreover, [illegible] the Pifflit farm, which adjoined that of the Bracelys, and, moreover, had been told to "kiss her little husband, and love him always," by the [illegible] her mother, and moreover [illegible] sweetheart by [illegible] the neighborhood, [illegible] to be one of those matches [illegible] not intended to be [illegible]. It was understood that they were to be married as soon as the young [illegible] could enable him to [illegible] and build a cottage [illegible] that might be [illegible]. Meantime, Eph. was [illegible] though never [illegible] had the trouble to win the young lady, he was not fully aware of the necessity of [illegible] and was, besides, [illegible] the charms of [illegible], after a hard day's work [illegible] harvesting. The neighbors thought it proof enough of his love that he never "went sparking" elsewhere, and, as he had rather talk of his gun or his fishing-rod, his horse or his crop, pigs, poultry, or anything else, than of love or matrimony, his companions took his engagement with his cousin to be a subject upon which he felt too deeply to banter, and they neither invaded his domain by attentions to his sweetheart, nor suggested thought by allusions to her. It was in the progress of this even tenor of engagement, that some law business called old Farmer Bracely to New York, and the young couple had managed to accompany him. And, of course, nothing would do for Miss Pifflit but "the Astor."

And now, perhaps the reader is ready to be told whose carriage is at the Vesey street door, and who sends up a dripping servant to inquire for Miss Pifflit.

THE STATESMAN has reliable correspondents in all the mining regions of Oregon, and Washington Territory—Powder River, Salmon River, Oro Fino, Colville, and the Bitter Root and Deer Lodge Valleys; and its facilities for obtaining news from those localities, both through its correspondents and the expresses running from Walla Walla to these points, are superior to those of any other paper published in Oregon or Washington Territory.

☞ The paper is the same size as the Weekly Oregonian, and its large circulation in all the mining regions above mentioned renders it, to merchants and others, an excellent advertising medium. aug2:1mdw
